No. CV11-0832-PHX DGC

ORDER

17 Defendants Robert and Ellen Kant (“Kant Defendants”) move to dismiss on 18 grounds of fraudulent joinder. Doc. 10. Plaintiffs oppose the motion (Doc. 13), and the 19 Kant Defendants have filed a reply (Doc. 16). Plaintiffs also filed a motion to remand the 20 case to Maricopa County Superior Court. Doc. 14. All Defendants oppose (Doc. 17), 21 and Plaintiffs have filed a reply (Doc. 23). For the reasons that follow, the Court will 22 grant Plaintiffs’ motion for remand and decline to rule on the Kant Defendants’ motion to 23 dismiss.¹

24 I. Background.

25 The relevant allegations in the complaint (Doc. 1-1) are summarized as follows.
26

27 ¹ The request for oral argument is denied because the issues have been fully 28 briefed and oral argument will not aid the Court’s decision. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 78(b); Partridge v. Reich, 141 F.3d 920, 926 (9th Cir. 1998).

1 Defendants Greenberg Traurig, LLP (“GT”) and Robert Kant were securities counsel for 2 Mortgages, Ltd. (“ML”) during the period leading up to ML’s bankruptcy.² GT and Kant
3 prepared at least eleven Private Offering Memoranda (“POM”) for ML to use in 4 connection with its efforts to procure funds from investors. Doc. 1-1 ¶ 50. In June of 5 2008, some of ML’s creditors forced ML into an involuntary bankruptcy proceeding. Id.
6 at ¶ 161.

7 On May 20, 2009, the Bankruptcy Court confirmed ML’s Chapter 11
8 reorganization plan (“Plan”). The Plan allows the liquidating trust to pursue ML’s claims
9 against professionals such as Defendants. Id. at ¶ 4. On January 10, 2010, the Securities
10 and Exchange Commission “entered an Order Instituting Administrative Proceedings 11 Pursuant to § 15(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, Making Findings, and 12 Revoking Broker-Dealer Registration” (“SEC Order”) against ML. Id. at ¶ 183.
13 Plaintiffs and GT on its own behalf and on behalf of its affiliates executed a tolling
14 agreement (“Agreement”) which tolled all applicable statutes of limitations. Id. at ¶ 14.

15 Almost one year after the parties signed the Agreement, Plaintiffs commenced this 16 action against Defendants in Maricopa County Superior Court, alleging legal malpractice
17 and breach of fiduciary duty. Id. On April 25, 2011, Defendants removed the case to this 18 Court on two independent grounds: (1) bankruptcy jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C.
19 § 1334(b) because the case is “related to” the ongoing bankruptcy proceeding;³ and (2)
20 diversity jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1332. Doc. 1. On May 26, 2011, Plaintiffs filed 21 the motion to remand for lack of subject matter jurisdiction. Doc. 14.

22 II. Removal and Remand Principles.

23 Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1441(a), a civil case brought in state court over which the 24 federal district courts have original jurisdiction may be removed to the federal court in

26 ² As part of its Chapter 11 plan, Mortgages, Ltd. changed its name to ML
27 Servicing Co., Inc. The Court will refer to the entity as ML for purposes of this motion.

28 ³ The bankruptcy case in question is In re Mortgages Ltd., No. 2:08-bk-07465.

1 the district where the action is pending. The statute is to be strictly construed against 2 removal jurisdiction. See Syngenta Crop Protection, Inc. v. Henson, 537 U.S. 28, 32
3 (2002); Shamrock Oil & Gas Corp. v. Sheets, 313 U.S. 100, 108 (1941). This “strong 4 presumption” against removal “means that the defendant always has the burden of 5 establishing that removal is proper.” Gaus v. Miles, Inc., 980 F.2d 564, 566 (9th Cir.
6 1992). Federal jurisdiction must be rejected, and the case remanded to state court,
7 “if there is any doubt as to the right of removal in the first instance.” Id.; see 28 U.S.C.
8 § 1447(c). Moreover, the burden of showing jurisdiction exists is allocated to the party
9 asserting jurisdiction. Indus. Tectonics, Inc. v. Aero Alloy, 912 F.2d 1090, 1092 (9th Cir.
10 1990) (citing McNutt v. Gen. Motors Acceptance Corp., 298 U.S. 178, 189 (1936)). The 11 Court is “free to hear evidence regarding jurisdiction and to rule on that issue prior to 12 trial, resolving factual disputes where necessary.” Augustine v. United States, 704 F.2d
13 1074, 1077 (9th Cir. 1983); see Roberts v. Corrothers, 812 F.2d 1173, 1177
14 (9th Cir. 1987).

15 III. “Related To” Bankruptcy Jurisdiction.

16 Federal courts have original jurisdiction over cases “related to” bankruptcy
17 proceedings. 28 U.S.C. § 1334(b). Bankruptcy “related to” jurisdiction is not limitless, 18 Celotex Corp. v. Edwards, 514 U.S. 300, 308 (1995), and the “Ninth Circuit has adopted 19 the ‘Pacor test’ for determining the scope of ‘related to’ jurisdiction” generally. In re
20 Pegasus Gold Corp., 394 F.3d 1189, 1193 (9th Cir. 2005) (internal citation omitted).
21 Under the Pacor test, federal courts have “related to” jurisdiction over any proceeding 22 where “the outcome could conceivably have any effect on the estate being administered 23 in bankruptcy.” Id. (citing Pacor, Inc. v. Higgins, 743 F.2d 984, 994 (3rd Cir. 1984)).

24 The Ninth Circuit has stated, however, that bankruptcy jurisdiction after a 25 reorganization plan has been approved (i.e., post-confirmation jurisdiction) is necessarily 26 more limited than pre-confirmation jurisdiction, and has adopted the Third Circuit’s 27 “close nexus” test for determining whether post-confirmation “related to” jurisdiction 28

1 exists. Pegasus, 394 at 1194. The Third Circuit concluded that “matters affecting the 2 ‘interpretation, implementation, consummation, execution, or administration of the 3 confirmed plan will typically have the requisite close nexus.’” Id. (quoting In re Resorts
4 Int’l, Inc., 372 F.3d 154, 167 (3rd Cir. 2004)). Bankruptcy courts generally do not retain 5 “related to” jurisdiction over claims that “could have existed entirely apart from the 6 bankruptcy proceeding and did not necessarily depend upon resolution of a substantial 7 question of bankruptcy law.” In re Ray, 624 F.13d 1124, 1135 (9th Cir. 2010).

8 Although a bankruptcy plan has already been confirmed here, rendering this a 9 post-confirmation action, Defendants argue that Pacor’s “any effect” test should be used
10 instead of the narrower “close nexus” test adopted by the Ninth Circuit in Pegasus.
11 Doc. 17 at 8. Defendants assert that Pegasus is not analogous to this case and suggest 12 that the “close nexus” test does not apply to “post-confirmation cases involving 13 liquidating plans.” Doc. 17 at 10 n.3. This argument is unpersuasive because the 14 bankruptcy plan in Pegasus created a liquidating trust just as the plan in this case. 394
15 F.3d at 1194. Absent case law suggesting otherwise, the Court will apply the “close 16 nexus” test in determining whether post-confirmation “related to” bankruptcy jurisdiction 17 exists here.

18 Defendants argue in the alternative that “related to” jurisdiction exists because 19 “recovery for actions pursued by [Plaintiff] ML Liquidating Trust is placed in a 20 Liquidation Fund and used to pay creditors under the Plan,” Doc. 17 at 11, but the Ninth
21 Circuit has rejected a similar argument as overbroad. Pegasus, 394 F.3d at 1194 n.1 22 (“[W]e are not persuaded by the Appellees’ argument that jurisdiction lies because the 23 action could conceivably increase the recovery to the creditors. As the other circuits have 24 noted, such a rationale could endlessly stretch a bankruptcy court’s jurisdiction.” (citation 25 omitted)). Defendants have not shown that this case is different, or that the Court would 26 be required to interpret the bankruptcy plan in order to resolve Plaintiffs’ claims, see id.
27 at 1194 (holding that “related to” jurisdiction existed where resolution of claims involved
28

1 interpretation of the bankruptcy plan). In light of the presumption against removal,
2 Defendants have not shown that Plaintiffs' claims satisfy the "close nexus" test necessary
3 for "related to" jurisdiction to be found in this case.

4 IV. Diversity Jurisdiction.

5 A federal court's diversity jurisdiction extends to "all civil actions where the 6 matter in controversy exceeds . . . $75,000 . . . and is between . . . [c]itizens of different 7 states. 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a)(1). Plaintiffs argue that diversity does not exist here. It is 8 undisputed that ML Servicing Co., Inc. and ML Liquidating Trust's ("Trust") trustee are 9 both citizens of Arizona (Doc. 1 ¶¶ 5-6), that at least one beneficiary of the Trust is a 10 citizen of New York (Doc. 14-3), that GT is a citizen of New York (Doc. 1 ¶ 7), and that 11 the Kant Defendants are citizens of Arizona (Doc. 1 ¶ 9). The Court will address the two 12 parties at issue, namely the Trust Plaintiff and the Kant Defendants.

13 A. Citizenship of Trust.

14 In cases where entities rather than individuals are litigants, diversity jurisdiction
15 depends on the form of the entity. Johnson v. Columbia Props. Anchorage, LP, 437 F.3d
16 894, 899 (9th Cir. 2006). In Navarro Sav. Ass'n v. Lee, the Supreme Court held that a 17 business trust's trustees – who had legal title, managed assets, and controlled litigation – 18 were the real parties to the controversy and could invoke diversity jurisdiction on the 19 basis of their own citizenship without regard to the citizenship of the trust's beneficiaries.
20 446 U.S. 458, 465-66 (1980). Ten years later, the Supreme Court stated that it has "never 21 held that an artificial entity, suing or being sued in its own name, can invoke the diversity 22 jurisdiction of the federal courts based on the citizenship of some but not all of its 23 members." Carden v. Arkoma Assocs., 494 U.S. 185 (1990). In clarifying Navarro, 24 Justice Scalia explained that "Navarro had nothing to do with the citizenship of the 25 'trust,' since it was a suit by the trustees in their own names." Id. at 192-93. On the 26 issue of whether a trust has the citizenship of only its trustees or of both its trustees and 27 its beneficiaries, the circuits are split. Carden did not define which entities qualify as 28

1 “members” for the jurisdictional analysis.

2 In this circuit, however, Johnson held that “[a] trust has the citizenship of its 3 trustee or trustees.” 437 F.3d at 899. Despite this unambiguous language, Plaintiffs 4 contend that the Ninth Circuit has not addressed the issue squarely and that Johnson is 5 not controlling because it did not consider the citizenship of the trust’s beneficiaries when 6 making its jurisdictional analysis. Doc. 23 at 5. Plaintiffs urge this Court to follow Third 7 and Eleventh Circuit case law holding that a trust has the citizenship of its trustee(s) and 8 beneficiaries. Doc. 23 at 4-7. Defendants argue that Johnson clearly holds that the 9 citizenship of a trust is determined by the citizenship of its trustee only. Doc. 17 at 4.

10 Although the relevant language in Johnson is terse and relies on Navarro, the 11 court appears to have considered Carden by citing to it more than once. Moreover, the 12 language in Johnson is unambiguous. Johnson is binding on this Court, and therefore 13 only the citizenship of the trustees is relevant. Because the trustee is a citizen of Arizona, 14 the Trust also is a citizen of Arizona. The dispositive issue, therefore, is whether the 15 Kant Defendants – also Arizona citizens – have been fraudulently joined.

16 B. Fraudulent Joinder.

17 Removal under diversity jurisdiction is proper “only if none of the parties in 18 interest properly joined and served as defendants is a citizen of the State in which such 19 action is brought.” 28 U.S.C. § 1441(b) (emphasis added); see 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a)(1).
20 Because diversity jurisdiction requires complete diversity of citizenship, each of the 21 plaintiffs must be a citizen of a different state than each of the defendants. Morris v.
22 Princess Cruises, Inc., 236 F.3d 1061, 1067 (9th Cir. 2001) (citing Caterpillar Inc. v.
23 Lewis, 519 U.S. 61, 68 (1996)). “Nevertheless, one exception to the requirement of 24 complete diversity is where a non-diverse defendant has been ‘fraudulently joined.’” Id.

25 “[F]raudulent joinder is a term of art.” McCabe v. General Foods Corp., 811 F.2d 26 1336, 1339 (9th Cir. 1987). “Joinder of a non-diverse defendant is deemed fraudulent, 27 and the defendant’s presence in the lawsuit is ignored for purposes of determining 28

1 diversity, ‘[i]f the plaintiff fails to state a cause of action against a resident defendant, and 2 the failure is obvious according to the settled rules of the state.’” Martori v. Golden Rule
3 Ins., Co., Case No. 09-00212, 2009 WL 1257389 at *2-4 (D. Ariz. May 14, 2009)
4 (quoting Morris, 236 F.3d at 1067).

5 In evaluating the allegations and evidence, courts employ a presumption against 6 finding fraudulent joinder. See Plute v. Roadway Package Sys., Inc., 141 F. Supp. 2d
7 1005, 1008 (N.D. Cal. 2001); Diaz v. Allstate Ins. Group, 185 F.R.D. 581, 586 (C.D. Cal.
8 1998). The Court must “resolve all ambiguities in state law in favor of the plaintiff[.]”
9 Diaz, 185 F.R.D. at 586. “[A]ll doubts concerning the sufficiency of a cause of action 10 because of inartful, ambiguous or technically defective pleading must be resolved in 11 favor of remand.” Plute, 141 F. Supp. 2d at 1008; see Levine, 41 F. Supp. 2d at 1078;
12 Charlin v. Allstate Ins. Co., 19 F. Supp. 2d 1137, 1140 (C.D. Cal. 1998).

13 Defendants argue that the claims against the Kant Defendants are time-barred and 14 that their joinder therefore is fraudulent. As the removing party, Defendants must defeat 15 the presumptions against removal and against a finding of fraudulent joinder by showing 16 the statute of limitations under state law clearly bars the claim. See Bertrand v. Aventis
17 Pasteur Laboratories, Inc., 226 F. Supp. 2d 1206, 1212 (D. Ariz. 2002) (“To establish 18 that an instate defendant has been fraudulently joined, the removing party must show” 19 that “there is no possibility that the plaintiff would be able to establish a cause of action 20 against the instate defendant in state court”). The statute of limitations in Arizona for 21 legal malpractice and breach of fiduciary duty is two years, and begins to run when the 22 cause of action accrues. A.R.S. § 12-542. These causes of action accrue when (1) “the 23 client knew or should have known of his attorney’s negligence,” and (2) “the plaintiff-
24 client has sustained some injury or damaging effect from the malpractice.” Ariz. Mgmt.
25 Corp. v. Kallof, 688 P.2d 710, 712-13 (Ariz. App. 1984); see also CDT, Inc. v. Addison,
26 Roberts & Ludwig, C.P.A., P.C., 7 P.3d 979, 981-82 (Ariz. App. 2000).

27 “[U]nder Arizona law, the question of when [a client] knew or should have known 28

1 of [an attorney's] negligence is critical in determining whether the statute of limitations
2 has run.” Cannon v. Hirsch Law Office, P.C., 213 P.3d 320, 331 (Ariz. Ct. App. 2009)
3 (quoting Long v. Buckley, 629 P.2d 557, 559 (Ariz. Ct. App. 1981)). The discovery issue 4 itself involves questions of reasonableness and knowledge, matters which courts are 5 particularly wary of deciding as a matter of law. Id. (citing Long, 629 P.2d at 560).

6 Defendants argue that Plaintiffs’ complaint clearly demonstrates that Plaintiffs,
7 through their predecessor ML, were on notice of all the facts underlying their claims
8 against Kant and had allegedly suffered harm by June 20, 2008, the date ML was forced 9 into voluntary bankruptcy. Doc. 10 at 7-8. Defendants cite the following allegations in 10 the complaint, all occurring by June 20, 2008: (1) Kant had drafted his last ML POM; 11 (2) ML Managing Director Robert Furst had become “very concerned about the 12 inadequacies in [Mortgages Ltd.’s] disclosures to its investors, including the disclosures 13 that had been prepared by GT and Kant;” and (3) ML was no longer raising money from 14 investors or distributing the POMs drafted by Kant. Id.

15 Defendants also argue that even if Plaintiffs did not or should have not known of 16 potential claims against the Kant Defendants by June 20, 2008, ML was directly 17 informed that it might have claims against them on June 27, 2008. Id. at 8. Defendants 18 cite a brief, filed by the group of creditors who forced ML into involuntary bankruptcy,
19 stating that “[t]o the extent any improprieties tainted these private offerings, [Mortgages 20 Ltd.’s] estate may possess claims against Greenberg for its work associated with the 21 same.” Id. Based on this statement, Defendants assert that there can be no doubt ML 22 was on notice of its claims against Kant by the end of June 2008. Id.

23 Plaintiffs assert that ML did not know nor should it have known about actual 24 claims against GT and Kant until the SEC Order was entered on January 19, 2010.
25 Doc. 13 at 10. According to Plaintiffs, the SEC Order made it evident that Kant and GT
26 had breached their duties to ML and failed to provide correct and complete legal advice 27 regarding ML’s securities. Doc. 14 at 5. If ML’s cause of action did not accrue until the 28

1 SEC Order was entered, ML's suit against the Kant Defendants would not be time-barred 2 and the Kant Defendants would not be fraudulently joined.

3 Plaintiffs counter Defendants' argument regarding ML's knowledge before ML
4 was forced into involuntary bankruptcy by stating that the Kant Defendants are merely 5 speculating about when ML knew that it had viable claims against them. Doc. 13 at 10.
6 Plaintiffs argue that ML's knowledge that it was in serious financial trouble does not 7 equate to knowledge that GT or Kant had done anything to cause the financial trouble.
8 Id. Plaintiffs also contend that ML would not have continued to allow GT to represent 9 ML in its bankruptcy proceeding through May 2009 had ML known or even suspected
10 that Kant and GT's action had caused ML to deepen its insolvency. Id.; Doc. 14 at 8.

11 Plaintiffs do not contest Defendants' statement that ML was directly informed it
12 might have claims against Defendants on June 27, 2008. But Plaintiffs do contest 13 Defendants' assertion that the June 27, 2008 brief created the knowledge or even 14 reasonable suspicion of Plaintiffs' claims against the Kant Defendants that is required for 15 the action to accrue. Doc. 14 at 7. The Court agrees. Simply because ML was informed 16 that it might have claims against the Kant Defendants "to the extent that improprieties" 17 occurred does not equate to ML's knowledge that it actually had those claims. Whether 18 ML reasonably should have known that it had claims against the Kant Defendants on 19 June 27, 2008 is a question of fact that cannot be resolved at this stage.

20 Given the presumption against fraudulent joinder and the factual issues that must 21 be resolved before claims against the Kant Defendant are time-barred, the Court cannot 22 conclude that fraudulent joinder has occurred. As already noted, "all doubts concerning 23 the sufficiency of a cause of action because of inartful, ambiguous or technically 24 defective pleading must be resolved in favor of remand." Plute, 141 F. Supp. 2d at 1008.
25 Because the Court cannot conclude that the Kant Defendants have been fraudulently 26 joined, the Court lacks diversity jurisdiction and this case must be remanded. In light of 27 this ruling, the Court need not address whether the case should be remanded on equitable 28

1 grounds under 28 U.S.C. § 1452(b). Because remand is appropriate, the Kant
2 Defendants' motion to dismiss will not be ruled upon by this Court.

3 IT IS ORDERED:

- 4 1. Plaintiffs' motion to remand (Doc. 14) is granted.
5 2. The Clerk shall remand the action to the Maricopa County Superior Court.
6 Dated this 2nd day of August, 2011.
